Nanci Wilson, CUDE, Joins CUES® as Membership Manager

MADISON, Wis.— CUES is pleased to announce Nanci Wilson, CUDE has joined the team as Membership Manager.

“With the launch of CUES new membership structure, our members needed an informative and personal experience to digest the opportunities and benefits available to their board and staff”, said Jimese Harkley, CUES VP/Membership, “Nanci’s passion for member service, training, and communication will be a huge asset to our team and will help our members incorporate the benefits into their training and development plans.”

Nanci previously worked at University Federal Credit Union in Marketing and Campus Outreach where she conducted financial education for students and staff at the university. Her previous experience also includes North Star Community Credit Union where she held the positions of Member Service Manager as well as Training and Development Director.

Nanci attended The University of South Dakota and earned her Credit Union Development Educator (CUDE) designation in 2015 from the National Credit Union Foundation.

After graduating and returning as a mentor and graduation speaker for the NCUF, Nanci continued her passion for the industry by becoming a contributor to CU Insight where she discusses topics such as accountability, management and member service.

In addition to her credit union experience, Nanci enjoys volunteering and speaking at events throughout her community and is a former member of the Kiwanis club.
